RUSKIN LAID TO REST.

Interment Yesterday Amidst Universal Signs of Sadness.

London, Jan. 25.—The remains of John Ruskin, which were removed from Brantwood yesterday, were interred at Coniston this afternoon amidst universal signs of sadness and with a ceremonial typically rural. The coffin was hidden beneath a mass of blooms, including a floral tribute from the queen. The body was laid in a grave lined with white tiles and close, according to Mr. Ruskin's desire, to the last resting place of the three Miss Seevers, to whom he had addressed his famous "Brantwood Letters." All parts of the country were represented at the graveside.

A memorial service in honor of Mr. Ruskin in Wasterlee in honor of Mr.

Joseph Carr came near ending a somewhat checkered career last night by an overdose of laudanum. Carr was discovered about 11 o'clock.

Dr. Condon finally went up with Officer Cooney and succeeded in bringing the man out. At an early hour this morning he mas pronounced out of danger. Carr has had a very unsatisfactory career and returned from the Phillipines but a few months ago, where he served with the
